Vendome Rezoning Granted

Apartments Opposed by D.C. Group

Architecture Unit Okays Proposal

By RON BATES

The Daly City Council Monday night took out one of its hot potatoes that had been placed in the legislative cooler three months ago.

It approved a controversial rezoning application for an area at the end of Vendome Street.

The application from developer Gus Pedemonte, who wants to build apartments, had been tabled for study by the council's newly formed architectural committee three months ago along with two other controversial rezoning requests.

Monday night's rezoning did not clear the council without debate.

Joseph Dziacko of 71 Vendome Street said that most of the residents of the area were "violently opposed" to the construction of apartments in the completely residential area.

He pointed out that the city planning commission recently denied a similar request in the Bayshore area because all of the surrounding properties were single family homes.

"We would like the same consideration," Dziacko said.

A charge by Dziacko that the developer was not living up to the stipulations placed upon him when the matter was approved by the planning commission prompted a lively discussion among council members and City Attorney Paul Hupf over the legality of placing building restrictions on rezoning actions.

Hupf said he did not believe that the restrictions could legally be placed upon a developer in approving a rezoning.

The state has set down general rules to follow in rezonings and restrictions that deviate from these general rules may not hold up in court, he said.

He said, however, if a letter could be obtained from a developer agreeing to comply to the restrictions, then the building

IF DISTRICT DIVIDED

Overcrowding at Jeff, Westmoor Is Seen Possible

The headaches of unification and a possible split in their district confronted a perplexed Jefferson High School board of trustees Monday night.

They heard District Superintendent Edward D. Morgan report that the district lacks eligibility points necessary to compensate for student enrollment shifts should the district be divided.

In a report on the district's building program and enrollment projections, Morgan noted that should the district be divided and the Laguna Salada District unified within itself, there would be a shortage of approximately 165 student spaces at Jefferson and Westmoor high schools.

Oceana and Terra Nova High Schools, however, would have approximately 500 extra spaces for student housing, he said. And then he added:

"If, when unification comes and there is a split, our spaces will be in the wrong place."

Members of the board had received a report from Morgan earlier in which he had outlined enrollment problems confronting the district. He noted then:

"The district's enrollment projections clearly reveal that Jefferson and Westmoor High schools must be given relief if these two educational facilities are to remain off double sessions.

"Approximately two months ago, you granted the administration permission to meet with Westlake Terrace parents, whose youngsters are enrolled in Jefferson Elementary's seventh and eighth grades, to discuss with them the possibility of their youngsters attending Oceana High School instead of Westmoor.

"If you believe that our district will be divided, you should probably not award the Oceana addition bid," Morgan's report stated.

PRIMARY DAY

North County Votes Tuesday

(Editorial, Page 23)

North County residents will vote Tuesday on a slate of both partisan and non-partisan candidates.

The partisan voting will take place as part of the primary day election.

The non-partisan balloting will be concerned with the election in the county of three supervisors, three Superior Court judges and a Municipal Court judge in the north district.

Polls in the North County will be open at 7 a.m. Tuesday and will close at 8 p.m.

Registration figures show this breakdown by parties in these cities:

Daly City: Democrats, 15,094; Republicans, 6,695; total, 22,259.

Pacifica: Democrats, 6-248; Republicans, 3,757; total, 8,855.

South San Francisco: Democrats, 10,666; Republicans, 3,757, total, 14,762.

Election officials anticipate a turnout of 60 per cent of those registered.

In the North County, principal interest in county offices is expected to be in the race for the fifth district seat vacated by longtime Supervisor Alvin Hatch who has announced his retirement.

Four candidates are seeking the post. They are:

Former Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci, former Pacifica Mayor Jean Fassler, Charles Carter of Skylonda, a Belmont manufacturer and Hughes M. Blowers, a Montara realtor.

If none of the four candidates receives a majority, a runoff election will be held in November.

Running for the other two supervisoral posts are incumbents James V. Fitzgerald in the first district and William M. Werder and Nancy Jewel Cross in the fourth district.

Three candidates are also running unopposed for San Mateo County Superior Court. They are Judges Edmund Scott, Wayne R.

JESD Mulls Addition to Pay Proposal

By DON MILLER

The board of trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District Monday night considered a proposal to ask the resignation of teachers rated unsatisfactory for two consecutive years.

Under the proposal, if the resignation were not forthcoming, the teacher's case, with the approval of the Jefferson Classroom Teachers' Association, could ultimately be referred to Superior Court for an action of dismissal.

The proposal would be an addition to a suggested change in policy previously presented to the board, which had been tabled for study.

The change proposed that the salary of a teacher rated as unsatisfactory by the administration for two years in a row be cut back.

At the suggestion of Trustee O. Wayne Douglas, the board decided to hold the entire matter over for further study.

District Supt. Richard L. Foster said the teachers' association had considered the pay cutback move insufficient.

He said members of the association "feel strongly that an unsatisfactory teacher should not be in the classroom."

He added that the addition to the proposed policy had been approved by the teachers. And he noted:

"This would be a more demanding policy—a more difficult policy to carry out."

Under the proposal, if a teacher did not resign upon request, the district administration, with the backing of the association, would recommend that the board of trustees hold a personnel hearing.

If the board concurred with the administration's findings, it could then request the teacher's resignation or consider referring the case to Superior Court.

In another policy matter, trustees voted to amend the district's guide lines on sabbatical

Five Finalists Compete For Miss Daly City Title

The curvaceous field of 15 girls vying for the title of Miss Daly City of 1964 was narrowed down to five Friday in the preliminary judging held at the Westmoor High School Little Theatre before an overflow crowd of about 300 persons.

The five finalists will compete for the crown at a dinner to be held at the South San Francisco Elks Club June 10.

They are Susann Bernard, 16, 996 Wildwood Avenue; Judy Liss, 19, 125 Ashland Drive; Rinice Phillips, 17, 1043 South Mayfair Avenue; Karen Soltau, 16, 750 Hanover Street and Cathy Herleikson, 17, 23 Crestline Avenue.

Miss Herleikson threw the contest into a bit of a quandry Saturday when she came down with the measles.

The incubation period for the contagious disease is 10 days. This means that just as Miss Herleikson is getting over the measles, her four competitors

A Queen Is Crowned In Pacifica Pageant

By LOUANNE HEATH

A LOVELY BLONDE princess became Her Royal Highness, Miss Pacifica, late Saturday evening when Theresa Foley was proclaimed fairest of the contestants in the eighth annual Miss Pacifica Pageant.

Beautifully gowned in white organza and radiant rose lace, Theresa exhibited her stunning smile and gracious manner as she floated to the center of the Oceana High School gymnasium to be crowned by Sandra Finley, Miss Pacifica of 1963, and receive her trophy, roses and jeweled broach, the symbols of her new office.

The announcement that Sharon Mershon and Charlotte Turner were the first and second place runners-up preceded the naming of the queen as did the presentation of the Miss Personality trophy to Bonnie Trudeau.

The statuesque Theresa, named princess of her senior prom at Terra Nova High School the night before, said later that she had hoped all along that she might win but during the long wait for the judges' decision, she began to feel some doubt.

"All along I kept thinking how wonderful it would be to win. But we were all sitting up there on the stage, in a state of shock, and I got to wondering what on earth I was doing in this pageant," she explained.

"After it was all over, it took a while for me to realize I had won and then I just exploded! I had been tired but all of a sudden I wanted to run, jump, yell and never go to sleep. It was just great."

Theresa's jazz dance interpretation of "Whatever Lola Wants, Lola Gets," was one

SPLIT PROPOSED

Unity Plan Runs Into Difficulty

A renewed attempt to reach accord on a school unification plan in the North County ran into difficulties last week.

The elementary boards of Laguna Salada, Jefferson and Brisbane and the Jefferson High School Board met in augmented session at Westmoor High School with the San Mateo County Committee on School Reorganization.

Members discussed a plan to split the high school district into two unified districts.

The plan had been put forward after a previous proposal to unify all the districts into an area comprising the high school district had been voted down by the committee.

After hearing various objections to the new plan, the committee agreed to meet for a tentative vote on the plan June 18 and asked for additional data on the objections.

Lyal Ingersoll of the high school board told the committee that a split in his district would create "serious problems" of overloading at both Westmoor and Jefferson High Schools.

He said the district had planned to use empty classroom space in a proposed new Oceana addition to "take the pressure" off Daly City schools that are at capacity enrollment.

"We have the loan from the state for Oceana already," Ingersoll said, "and we're ready to go to bid."

Oceana also figures in plans to house students from the Serramonte development until there is enough population to build a school there, Ingersoll pointed out.

The Serramonte high school boundary lines would take in some of the homes now served by Westmoor.

The high school board was leave to specify that any such leave might be granted if it would "benefit the schools and pupils of the district."

The board is still considering other aspects of its over-all leave policy and plans to discuss them at a meeting June 1.

In other business, Foster described briefly a tentative budget for the 1964-65 school year.

He said that the district's assessed valuation would grow an estimated 2½ per cent. The present tax rate of $2.50 per $100 of assessed valuation is at a legal maximum and would not be affected, he said.

He suggested that the board schedule a study session to consider the budget and, in particular, provisions of the Unruh Education Bill. He noted:

"We need a night to consider the Unruh Bill for all that glitters is not gold."

Early in the meeting, representatives of the architectural firm of Angus McSweeney Incorporated outlined a proposal for the rebuilding of Woodrow Wilson School.

The plan would revolve around a relatively new concept of providing open spaces between classrooms with a central area to be used at times as a common teaching area.

Use of accoustical materials would eliminate any noise problem between the classes, the architects pointed out.

Foster reported that state officials have authorized the district to proceed with preliminary planning on Woodrow Wilson although the district has no assurance that the allocations board will approve a plan to tear down the old section of the school and erect a new building.

STELLA JENSEN
She'll Step Down

Mrs. Jensen Will Leave S. M. Board

Mrs. Stella Jensen, a Colma resident who has been an elected school official since 1922, announced her resignation last week from the San Mateo County Board of Education.

Mrs. Jensen said she is moving out of her trustee area in Colma to live with her daughter, Mrs. G. W. Gohl, and her family at 162 Marco Polo Way in Burlingame.

Mrs. Jensen was first elected a school trustee in 1922 and Union High School District. She served on the Jefferson board until 1946.

She was also a trustee of the San Mateo Junior College District from 1937 to 1955 and was elected to the County Board of Education eight years ago.

Mrs. Jensen has not confined all her activities to school work, however, and has been active throughout the years in other civic affairs.

may come down with them.

Contest Chairman Fred Martin said the finals would have to go on as scheduled because all the arrangements have been made and tickets for the dinner sold.

"Meanwhile, I'm just going to keep my fingers crossed," Martin added.

Winner of the contest will walk off with a raft of prizes and merchandise orders worth approximately $1,200.

Tickets for the dinner may be purchased at the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce office at 6454 Mission Street or at the office of The Post-Times at 30 Park Plaza Drive.

D.C. Murder Hearing Set For June 10

Hearing of a murder charge against Michael Kelley, the 17-year-old Daly City boy who is charged with killing his father and tried suicide six days later, has been scheduled for June 10.

Superior Judge Frank W. Rose conducted a "detention hearing" at the boy's bedside in County General Hospital last week and ordered that he be held under guard until the hearing.

At that time, the judge will first decide whether the boy should be tried in Juvenile Court or be remanded to Superior Court and be tried as an adult. If the former choice is made, the murder hearing could proceed at that time.

Assistant Chief Probation Officer Anthony Lovoi said, however, that there is some doubt that Michael will be well enough to have the hearing on the date scheduled. He is said to be recuperating satisfactorily from his self-inflicted rifle wounds, however.

The youth admitted that he pumped seven bullets into his father's body.

He then lived in their Daly City apartment, with his father's body sprawled on the kitchen floor, before calling police and then shooting himself.

PARTS STOLEN

Maxine Padgett of 79 Abbott Avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that thieves had stolen several parts from her auto, parked in the Jefferson High School parking lot.

North County Unification Plans Runs Into Difficulty

asked to prepare figures on the anticipated housing problem for the June 18 meeting.

Chairman of the board Elio Fontana said the figures "might very well alter the thinking of committee members."

Thomas Noonan, chairman of the Jefferson Elementary School Board, urged that the unification plan be voted on as soon as possible to take advantage of the Unruh Bill, which was passed by the Legislature and sent to Governor Edmund G. Brown last week.

He said: "If we don't act fast, we're going to lose about $15 per student."

One of the provisions of the bill stipulates that if unification is accomplished or voted on by 1965, the state will give the unified district a bonus.

Chairman Paul Bradley said the county committee had not seen the amended Unruh Bill and would hesitate to act without a chance to study it.

Clarfication of a statement by Mrs. Ruth Boudinot that only a 50-cent tax increase was needed for a Laguna Salada unified district was requested by the committee.

Mrs. Boudinot, chairman of the Lagnna Salada board, did not have figures available. She said that the 50-cent raise might not be needed. It would all depend on the spending policies of the new unified board, she added.

Laguna trustee Robert Hale said that his board compared the Jefferson High district to other high school districts and in many cases, he said, the others don't spend as much.

After the tentative vote June 18, two public hearings—one in each proposed district—will be held and a final vote taken after the hearings.

A final plan for the entire county must be submitted to the State Board of Education by September.

D.C. Council OK's Zoning permit on the project could be held up until he did comply.

Councilman Albert Polonsky twice moved to table the motion to approve the rezoning.

He said the residents of the area evidently did not have enough time to prepare a presentation of their viewpoints because they were not notified. The motions died for lack of seconds.

Polonsky made his second motion after he was told that stipulations attached by the planning commission had not been included in the proposed rezoning ordinance.

George Lynn of San Francisco, an engineer retained by the developer, said that he had the plans of the project with him and that all the stipulations would be complied with.

Overcrowding Seen Possible

are scheduled to be opened by district officials tomorrow.

In addition to the Oceana project, Pacifica's outheast Study report recommended an additional high school to be located near the Skyline Drive area in Pacifica.

In the advent of a new unified district in that area, the school would no longer be of concern to the Jefferson district board, Morgan pointed out.

Memorial Day Rites Scheduled

Picnics, swimming, backyard barbecues and a raft of other leisure-time activities will be the order of the day Saturday as the North County pauses to observe Memorial Day.

Because the holiday falls on a Saturday, long-distance traveling is expected to be shunned this year by many holiday observers.

Most stores will be closed for the day. Some businesses will give employes Friday off to compensate for the holiday falling on a Saturday.

As in previous years, memorial services have been scheduled by the Daly City Fire Department and veterans' groups.

The Fire Department will conduct a service in memory of deceased firefighters at 11 a.m. Saturday on the front lawn of the Central Fire Station at 151 Lake Merced Boulevard.

The Rev. B. J. MacCarthy of Our Lady of Mercy Church will conduct the service.

At Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno, the Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus, will conduct its annual Memorial Day Field Mass.

The mass will be celebrated at a special altar situated at the base of the central flag pole.

Representatives from many branches of the Armed Services stationed in the Bay Area will attend.

House Move Time Limit Suggested

The Pacifica City Council tonight will review a proposal to amend the city's house-moving ordinance, premitting a 45-day extension to the present 90-day limit.

The extension would permit owners to complete construction requirements for a residence that has been moved.

The proposal is contained in a recommendation made by the city's chief building inspector and city manager.

A study of structures that have been moved since 1960 will be given to council members.

It shows that since 1960, only three of 11 buildings moved met the provisions of the present ordinance.

In other action, the council will act on a resolution, authorizing engineering consultant Edgar A. Griswold to proceed with repair of the fallen Sharp Park sewage outfall line.

Th council also will continue a hearing on the application of the Church of the Latter day Saints to reclassify a single-residential two-acre parcel in Pacifica Gardens, north of Linda Mar School, to permit the construction of duplex units.

The planning commission has reviewed the application and recommended that it be denied.

In other business, the council will:

Consider a poison oak problem in park areas, specifically Calera Park. City Manager Karl Baldwin has asked Eldred Lokker, recreation department director, to secure a cost quotation from a poison oak eradicator on removing poison oak from Calera Park.

Baldwin's letter to the council says, in part:

". . . this is a tremendous problem with all our park areas. Large portions of Oddstad Park and all our green belt areas are coverd with poison oak."

of the high spots of the evening, which saw some fine displays of talent.

Clad in starkly simple, brief, black dancing tights, she whirled, leaped and spun about the floor of the gymnasium until the audience expressed its appreciation with roaring applause.

Though she has danced for a number of years, Theresa explained that she has taken only a few months of private instruction, and while she enjoys dancing as a hobby, she has no desire to pursue a career on the stage.

"I hope to take some sort of business training in the fall and since I've always been interested in traveling, maybe I'll do something in the Peace Corps or get a job in one of our foreign embassies.

"I'd like to see Europe or the South Seas but now I'm not too clear about anything. I'm still living in sort of a blur."

BESIDES DANCING, Theresa enjoys painting, especially portraiture—riding a surf board, ballroom dancing and swimming. Swimming was the activity she selected to help work off the tension Sunday and the new Miss Pacifica spent the day sunbathing, and swimming with friends at Searsville Lake.

Theresa, who admits she was nervous Saturday night, claims her mother won the honors for suffering the greatest stage fright.

"I was afraid she would faint when I was crowned. She and my father, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Green of Linda Mar, and my boy friend, Rick Larson, were out in the audience with my sister Cathy and my brothers Michale and Mark, clapping and cheering their heads off.

"Sunday morning we phoned my grandparents in Oregon and they were terribly excited about all of this, too," she said.

As soon as the excitement begins to abate somewhat, Theresa will begin preparing to represent Pacifica in the Fiesta Dream Girl contest in San Mato later this summer.

Bayshore Adopts Tentative Budget

A tentative budget calling for expenditures of $315,000 and no increase in the tax rate has been adopted by the board of trustees of the Bayshore School District.

The present tax rate is $2.39 per $100 of assessed valuation.

The new budget includes $16,000 for increases in salaries. Otherwise, according to Natalie Lipman, district superintendent, the budget is substantially the same as the current budget.

In addition to the $315,000 in expenditures, the tentative budget includes an unallocated reserve of $75,000 — the same figure as that budgeted for the current year.

A public hearing will be held on the budget at 7:30 p.m. Monday, August 3, at Bayshore School. A regular meeting of the board will be held at 8 p.m.

In other district news, Miss Lipman reported that 49 students will be graduating in June. Commecement exercises will be Wednesday, June 10.

Use Permit Is Denied

Feeling that any future development along beach frontages should be limited to commercial recreational development and public use, Pacifica planning commissioners last week rejected an application of L. D. Wiechers for a use permit for professional offices west of Cabrillo Highway and north of Linda Mar Boulevard.

Wiechers had proposed to build an office building at the rear of the existing Linda Mar Realty building on a site which the city's master plan had designated as a public beach.

MODERN FACILITY

Post-Times Plant Nears Completion

The Post-Times' new publishing plant, now under construction at 1080 South Bayshore Boulevard in San Mateo, is expected to be completed August 1, according to an announcement by J. Hart Clinton, publisher and editor of the Post-Times.

The plant will contain 37,000 square feet and when completed will be one of the most modern newspaper plants in the West.

Installation of a 96-page Hoe press is now proceeding at the construction site. The press will about double the capacity of present press facilities.

After installation, the press will be operated on a trial basis to ensure full, operating efficiency when full-scale production of The Post-Times begins in the new building.

Harold Schlotthauer, general manager of The Post-Times, has set Augst 15 as the start of operations in the new plant.

The Post-Times publishing plant is now situated at Second Avenue and San Mateo Drive in San Mateo.

Schlotthauer said that employee vacations and other schedules have been arranged to ensure a smooth transition from the present plant to the new quarters.

Harry A. Thomsen Jr., consulting architect, helped plan the new building, beginning with site development. He will supervise construction until completion.

He is a winner of a merit award for architectural excellence presented by the Bell Telephone System for his design of the new Menlo Park Bell Telephone Company building.

Designs for only 5 out of about 2,000 builders erected for the Bell System throughout the United States in the past two years have won similar awards, according to company officials.

Building contractor for the new plant is the Moroney Construction Company of Burlingame.

The Post-Times will hold a reception after the opening of the plant to acquaint San Mateo County residents with features of the new building.

Resident of Colma Sues For Permit

A Colma landowner who wants to convert his hog farm into a drive-in movie theatre and miniature golf course has charged in a suit filed in Superior Court that town officials who have denied him a permit, are trying to force him to sell the property to the adjoining Holy Cross Cemetery.

In his complaint, Vittorio Spirea asserts that he could not get a fair and impartial hearing because a majority of the members of the town council and planning commission are employes of various cemeteries and were "not disinterested persons."

He names three councilmen and four planners who are employes of either Olivet, Cypress Lawn, Salem or Holy Cross cemeteries.

"The expressed purpose of said planning commission," Spirea charged, "is to retain Colma as a cemetery city."

He said owners of Holy Cross have made overtures over the years to buy his land but he has rejected the offers.

He charged that he is getting the same treatment that other owners have received in the past and is being required to "either use the property at a loss or sell the same to the cemetery groups."

The owner asserted that the findings upon which the denial was based were contrary to the evidence. Spirea proposed to build a $400,000 theater on his 20-acre hog farm.

at the POST

By LE PACINI

SELDOM is this column prophetic, not because we don't try, but usually because our predictions are about as accurate as Neville Chamberlain's.

Casting our natural modesty aside for once, however, we wish to cite a column we wrote about Joe Verducci August 15, 1962.

Usually—even for something we've written—our memory doesn't reach further back than the last time we insulted Alvin Dark, but this particular Verducci column became memorable to us because:

(1) It was only the third At the Post column we had ever written, (2) Only the week before the editor had gotten the spelling of our name straightened out (he insisted, above our protests, that it should be spelled "Puccini"), (3) It was the week after this particular column that our picture first appeared in its upper right hand corner and we remember being amazed at the job the touch-up man had done on our sideburns and class.

So you can see that the Verducci column abounded with historical significance. But enough reminiscing. Our lead paragraph in that story read:

The story of Joe Verducci, mayor of Daly City and San Francisco State faculty member, never seems to end, never seems to reach its acme. His career, if not his physical stature, is tall.

WE THEN went on, in part, to say:

Probably no one, however, has called Verducci "Little Joe" to his face, at least not without a smile on his own. Not, at least, since 1931.

That was the year Joe Verducci, 5-ft., 158 pounds and fresh out of San Francisco's Mission High School, decided that he was going to play varsity football for Navy Bill Ingram at the University of California.

On his first day out, Ingram looked him over and asked him how much he weighed. Joe told him. Looking at the Bear giants surrounding Joe, Ingram said, "You're awfully small, Joe."

"Yes, and I'm awfully tough, too," was Joe's reply. He was Cal's varsity quarterback—a blocking back at that—in '32-'33, the days of power football.

WE THEN went on to briefly outline Verducci's phenomenal success as a high school coach, his record as a World War II Coast Guard officer, how he took San Francisco State out of pigskin oblivion to six Far Western Conference titles and how he was three times voted Northern California Coach of the Year.

We then told of how he quit coaching, after an undefeated year in 1960 (he said coaching was becoming more a chore than a challenge to him), and concentrated on his other post as State Athletic Director as well as his Daly City public service as councilman and mayor.

But knowing the active Verducci's appetite for work, the powers that were, of the time, immediately tabbed him as Assistant Dean of Students. And when an administrative emergency arose soon afterward, he temporarily took the reins of Dean of Student Activities. He finally settled down, until this year, just to plain Athletic Director, Assistant Dean of Students, and Mayor of Daly City.

Now only an athletic director, he's running for county supervisor, and this brings us back to that lead paragraph of 1962, "The story of Joe Verducci . . . never seems to reach its acme . . ." and to the point of this column, which is being written before election returns merely as a coward's device for boosting his prediction average on what he feels is as sure a thing as Ben Casey losing his temper tonight.

After an exhaustive study, you see, we've discovered that Verducci's never been on a losing team, and who can flaunt those statistics?

So we figure that coach Joe, who's been a winner and worker and a leader all his life, will go on winning and worknig and leading and doing the job he's always done, never reaching his acme, and quitting whatever he feels he must when it is no longer a challenge to him.

Probably some people will construe this column, which, if we're right for once, will become another historical milestone, not as a selfish attempt to be right, for a change, but as an attempted political boost for an old friend. But really, if Joe Verducci ever gets to the point where he needs a column written by Pacini to win an election, it's time for him to retire gracefully to his beloved badminton courts.

And besides, what we know about the finer points of winning politics, Harold Stassen could fit in his win column.

And that ends this column, just like the one on August 22, 1962.

MAYOR MICHEAL DeBERNARDI gives realtor Frank (Duke) LaMont a few golfing pointers to use in the Ninth Annual Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce tournament at the Olympic Club Friday. According to Chamber Manager Pete Markovich, about 140 businessmen and city officials have signed up to play in the annual affair. It will be held Friday at the Olympic Club. The $15 fee includes the annual dinner, green fees and prizes for all. (Post-TimesPhoto)

SSF PLACES THREE

Coaches Pick 6 Repeaters In All-League Selections

The South San Francisco Warriors have placed three men on the 1964 All-North Peninsula League baseball team and has walked off with almost all of the honors for the season.

Westmoor, El Camino and Jefferson placed two and Oceana and Terra Nova placed one player each.

Besides picking up their second straight championship, the Warriors had the Most Valuable Player, Jeff Jones, the Coach of the Year, the batting co-champion, and the pitching leaders.

Six repeaters from last year are on the All-League team, selected by the North County coaches last Friday.

The Warriors' victory twins, pitchers Jeff Jones and Chuck Olivera, were named starting hurlers on the dream team for the second time.

Jones and Oliviera each sported identical 4-1 records to lead the league's pitchers. Oliviera had a glittering 0.70 ERA while Jones notched a 1.26 ERA. Both are seniors.

The third Warrior on the team is second baseman Larry Sylvestri, a senior who hit .468 to tie El Camino's Brian Cute for the NPL batting crown.

Cute, another senior, repeated on the team as a shortstop.

El Camino's Mike Tyler, a junior, was selected to fill the catcher's slot primarily on the strength of his batting. He hit .429.

The two Jefferson players who were selected for the outfield are also repeaters. They are Jerry Sullivan and Mike Gutierrez.

Gutierrez led the Indian hitters with a .429 average, getting 12 hits in 28 trips to the plate. He hit .400 last year. Sullivan hit .419 this year, including one triple and four doubles.

The husky combination pitcher-outfielder got off to a slow start this season because of an injured ankle.

Injuries also plagued Westmoor star Bruce Hix. A shoulder separation and a broken wrist were still mending when the season started.

The diminutive third baseman, an All-NPL repeater, maintained a .400 batting average by collecting 10 hits in 25 trips to the bat. He scored 11 runs.

Dusty Nolan, the Rams' batting leader with a .452 average, was Westmoor's other contribution to the team. The outfielder got 14 hits in 31 tries, including four doubles, and led the team with eight RBI's.

Terra Nova's Marty Coil was the only Tiger named to the first team. The first baseman, a senior, was edged out of a tie for the batting crown by one hit. He got 13 hits in 29 at-bats.

Oceana's Dave Westphal was named to the utility spot on the team. He was an honorable mention on last year's team and one of the biggest hitters for the Sharks this year.

Receiving honorable mention this year were El Camino's Mark Avelar, Jefferson's Tolio Soliata, Westmoor's John Dorris, Oceana's Ernie Brede and Ken Oden and Terra Nova's Glen Sievert and Jack Bresnahan.

Jeff Jones Named MVP; Brian 'Coach of Year'

JEFF JONES Named MVP

South San Francisco's Jeff Jones added the Most Valuable Player title last week to a growing list of honors and Warrior Coach Bob Brian added to a similar list when he was named Coach of the Year by sportswriters.

Jones will graduate from South San Francisco High School as the leading scholar of his class with a number of scholarships to choose from.

He plans to attend the Berkeley School of Music near Boston and eventually hopes to become a professional jazz musician with the alto sax. He has numerous honors in the music field.

On the diamond, he was the all-around player who provided the punch that helped the Warriors to the title.

In pitching, he notched a 4-1 record with a 1.26 ERA average. He gave up only 24 hits in the 10 league contests. He struck out 54 batters in the 39 innings he pitched and walked only 13.

With the bat, Jones also was a standout. He hit .346, scored 11 runs and led his team in runs batted in with seven. He got nine hits including two home runs in 26 times at bat.

He was always a threat when he was on base. He led the league with 16 stolen bases.

For Coach Brian, the 1964 Warriors are his sixth championship team in 10 years of coaching at South San Francisco. He also has been accorded the Coach of the Year title before.

Warriors Win Title; Oceana Upsets Indians

By CRAIG BECKHERER

South San Francisco's Warriors ruled as North Peninsula League baseball champs for the second year in a row this week after a pennant-clinching victory over Terra Nova Friday.

The champs ran wild on the bases, stealing nine sacks en route to a 4-1 decision over the host Tigers.

For South San Francisco, it was a must win. The Warriors had clinched a tie for the title the previous week but were upset by Westmoor last Wednesday.

The Industrial City nine wasted no time with base-running tactics.

In the first inning, the champions stole four bases, got a double from Greg Jones and parlayed this with a walk and an error for a three-run outburst that was more than enough for the win.

Oceana provided the upset of the day in dumping Jefferson, 9-7. The Sharks broke a 3-3 tie in the fourth inning with a five run rally featuring six singles, a walk and an Indian error.

The loss knocked Jefferson out of contention for a second-place finish.

In other action Friday, Westmoor upended El Camino, 5-4, halting a Colt rally in the bottom of the seventh to pick up the win.

Larry Sylvestri opened hostilities in South San Francisco's big first inning when he reached first base on an error and then promptly stole second and third base.

Sam Pretari then walked and pilfered second. Greg Jones doubled to score both runners and provide the Warriors with their only hit of the inning.

The Champs garnered their third run of the frame when Jones kept up the donnybrook by stealing third and scoring on an overthrow that ended up in left field.

In the third inning Brian's boys went right back at it when Sam Pretari used the same frustrating (for Terra Nova) formula getting to first on an error, swiping second and third and rambling home on another overthrow at the hot corner.

All in all Terra Nova contributed six errors while Warrior ace Jeff Jones held the Tigers to two hits in picking up his fourth win in five starts.

The Tigers got some measure of revenge in the bottom of the seventh when two stolen bases and an overthrow resulted in their only run.

In the Westmoor-El Camino contest, the score was tied at the end of six innings. The Rams tallied three times in the top of the seventh, then halted a Colt comeback in the bottom of the frame after El Camino had scored twice.

Centerfielder Dusty Nolan led the Rams in the hitting department, banging out three hits, including two doubles.

Triple Play, RBI Record Top Action

Last Wednesday's action in the North Peninsula League baseball race featured a triple play and a RBI record.

The triple play was racked up by Oceana in a crosstown clash with Terra Nova.

With no outs in the seventh inning and two Tigers on base, Bill Zander of Terra Nova lashed a hard grounder back to Oceana hurler Don Helm who threw to third baseman Dave Westphal for one out.

Westphal fired to first baseman Steve Rentmeester for the second out and Rentmeester returned it to Westphal to catcher Larry Freguson who had been on first. The Sharks won the contest, 6-3.

The RBI record was set by El Camino's Walt Harris who banged out three home runs and drove in eight runs.

The Colts walloped the Jefferson Indians, 15-1. In other action, Westmoor upended South San Francisco, 5-4.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

FOR ENTHUSIASTIC gatherings few events equal the annual YWCA family night program. This annual celebration is one of interest to all age groups and draws guests from the entire community. Personal involvement is not necessary for one to enjoy the program, though it is admittedly more interesting to know some of the participants. This family night sharing is one to which a complete stranger might be drawn.

This year's celebration was held Friday evening in the War Memorial Community Center with more than 500 persons on hand to see first hand the fruit of the labor of many a dedicated volunteer, many an earnest student and an imaginative director, Virginia Church.

The members of the Y Wives of Daly City spent meeting time to construct the clever little table decorations, make name tags, posters and a display table for the program as a part of their service project for the YWCA. Primarily involved with the work of decorating the building, setting tables and many other pre-gathering details were Eleanor Raymond, Norma Washford, Bobby Harvey, Mary DeWitt and that very busy lady, Aileen Katopodis, the newly elected president of the Garden Village P-TA group. Also included among the chores for the Y Wives were the baking of cookies, and the preparation of coffee, tea and the punch.

Mrs. Doris Fox, co-ordinator for the creative group play classes, was in charge of the dancing demonstrations by the members of the hula and ballet classes and the display of juvenile art that added immeasurably to the decor and the interest of the room.

Special emphasis was laid upon the Y's youth program and persons urged to register their offspring for the summer classes and the camps.

The best salesmen of all were the youngsters in the program, bustling with energy and bursting with pride as they demonstrated to the uninitiated the benefits of participation in a YWCA program.

YESTERDAY the members of the Y Wives of Daly City attended a no-host luncheon at the Cypress Hills Country Club to celebrate the completion of a successful year and to wish a successful term to the newly elected officers of the unit.

According to Mrs. Eleanor Raymond, Y Wives co-ordinator, Mrs. Betty Elliot will be the chief liaison officer, Mrs. Harvey will be program chairman, Rose Mary Rau will be the treasurer, Jean Williams the secretary and June St. Peter will continue as the director of publicity.

LEGAL NOTICE LEGAL NOTICE

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF SALE OF SCHOOL DISTRICT BONDS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, at the office of the County Clerk and ex-officio clerk of said Board of Supervisors in the Hall of Justice, City of Redwood City in said County, California, on TUESDAY the 16th day of JUNE, 1964, at the hour of 10 o'clock A. M. for the purchase of bonds of SAN MATEO JUNIOR COLLEGE DISTRICT of San Mateo County, State of California, more particularly described below:

ISSUE: $1,750,000.00, 1964 School Bonds, Series A, consisting of 1,750 bonds of the denomination of $1,000.00 each, numbered A-1 to A-1,750 inclusive. Said bonds are part of an authorized issue in the aggregate principal amount of $12,800,000.00. The remaining $11,050,000.00 principal amount of said authorized issue may be sold when and as determined by said Board of Supervisors, but it is anticipated will not be offered for sale prior to DECEMBER 1, 1964.

DATE: All of said bonds are dated JUNE 15, 1964.

INTEREST RATE: Maximum five (5) per cent per annum, payable annually for the first year on JUNE 15, 1965, and semi-annually thereafter on DECEMBER 15 and JUNE 15, in each year. Bidders must specify the rate of interest which the bonds hereby offered for sale shall bear. Bidders will be permitted to bid different rates of interest and to split rates irrespective of the maturities of said bonds, except that no bond may bear more than one rate of interest or more than one coupon to evidence any interest payment. The interest rate or rates stated in the bid must be in multiples of 1/8 or 1/20 of one per cent per annum, payable as aforesaid.

MATURITIES: Said bonds mature serially in consecutive numerical order from lower to higher (without option of prior redemption) as follows:

Principal Amount	Maturity Dates JUNE 15
$ 25,000.00	1965 to 1969, both inclusive;
$ 50,000.00	1970 to 1974, both inclusive;
$ 75,000.00	1975 to 1979, both inclusive; and
$100,000.00	1980 to 1989, both inclusive.

PAYMENT: Both principal and interest payable in lawful money of the United States, at the office of the County Treasurer of said County or at the option of the holder at the paying agents of the District in the cities of Chicago, Illinois; New York City, New York; Los Angeles, California; and San Francisco, California.

So long as the bonds and coupons are outstanding, the District shall maintain paying agents in said cities.

EXECUTION AND REGISTRATION: Coupon bonds will be issued by said Board of Supervisors on behalf of said District. The bonds will be executed by the manual signature of at least one official authorized to execute the bonds. Said bonds are registrable only as to both principal and interest.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: Said bonds were authorized by more than two-thirds of the voters voting at an election held in said District on MARCH 24, 1964, and will be issued and sold for the purpose of raising money for authorized school purposes.

SECURITY: The bonds are general obligations of said District, and said Board of Supervisors has power and is obligated to levy ad valorem taxes for the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon upon all property within said District, subject to taxation by said District (except certain intangible personal property, which is taxable at limited rates), without limitation of rate or amount.

TAX EXEMPT STATUS: In the event that prior to the delivery of the bonds the income received by private holders from bonds of the same type and character shall be declared to be taxable under any Federal Income Tax laws, either by the terms of such laws or by ruling of a Federal Income Tax authority or official which is followed by the Internal Revenue Service or by the decision of any Federal Court, the successful bidder may at his option prior to the tender of said bonds by the Board of Supervisors, be relieved of his obligation under the contract to purchase the bonds and in such case the deposit accompanying his bid will be returned.

LEGAL OPINION: The purchaser will be required to furnish his own legal opinion as to the legality of said bonds.

A copy of the legal opinion, certified by the official in whose office the original is filed, will be printed on each bond without charge to the successful bidder.

TERMS OF SALE

HIGHEST BIDDER: The bonds will be awarded to the highest responsible bidder or bidders considering the interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered, if any. The highest bid will be determined by deducting the amount of the premium bid (if any) from the total amount of interest which the District would be required to pay from the date of said bonds to the respective maturity dates thereof at the coupon rate or rates specified in the bid and the award will be made on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the district. The lowest net interest cost shall be computed on a 360-day year basis. The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of delivery. The cost of printing the bonds will be borne by the district.

RIGHT OF REJECTION: Said Board of Supervisors reserves the right in its discretion to reject any and all bids and to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

PROMPT AWARD: The Board of Supervisors will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than 24 hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for receipt of proposals: unless such time of award is waived by the successful bidder.

PROMPT DELIVERY: Delivery of said bonds will be made to the successful bidder at the office of the County Treasurer of said County as soon as the bonds can be prepared which it is estimated will be within 30 days from the day of sale, but not prior to the date of the bonds.

RIGHT OF CANCELLATION: The successful bidder shall have the right, at his option, to cancel the contract of purchase if the bonds are not tendered for delivery within 60 days from the date of sale thereof, and in such event the successful bidder shall be entitled to the return of the deposit accompanying his bid.

FORM OF BID: All bids must be for not less than all of the bonds hereby offered for sale, and for not less than the par value thereof and accrued interest to date of delivery. Such bids, together with bidder's check, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Board of Supervisors of said County, and endorsed "Proposal for School Bonds of SAN MATEO JUNIOR COLLEGE DISTRICT of San Mateo County."

BID CHECK: With each bid must be submitted a certified check or cashier's check for $5,000.00, drawn on a bank or trust company transacting business in the State of California, payable to the order of the County Treasurer, to secure said District from any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. In addition bidders are requested (but not required) to supply an estimate of the total net interest cost to the District on the basis of their respective bids, which shall be considered as informative only and not binding on either the bidder or the District. Checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned by the County Clerk by mail, upon the award of the bonds. No interest will be paid upon deposit made by the successful bidder.

There is no controversy or litigation pending concerning the validity of the above issue, the corporate existence of said District, or the title of the officers to their respective offices and the Board of Supervisors will deliver to the successful bidder a no-litigation certificate certifying to the foregoing as of and at the time of the delivery of the bonds.

Dated: MAY 19, 1964.

Cast Switch Announced by Coast Players

A cast member of "The Boor," one of the three one-act plays scheduled by the Pacifica Players for next month, has withdrawn and his role taken up and switched from male to female by the director.

George Salinger, cast as a man-servant to the countess in the Chekhov farce-comedy, is being replaced by Nancy Catton, it was announced by Gene Merwin, general production manager. Salinger dropped out of rehearsals last week to campaign for his brother Pierre, a U. S. senatorial nominee hopeful.

Mrs. Catton's role approximates other household characters she has played — a scrubwoman in "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals" and housekeeper in "Night Must Fall." She also performed a monologue last year at the Pacifica Arts Festival.

Third member of the cast, Bob Anderson, also was in "Night Must Fall," "All My Sons," and two productions of "A Christmas Carol."

"The Boor" and "Hello Out There" and "Fumed Oak" are billed for performances at the Oddstad Community Center in Linda Mar on June 12, 13, 19 and 20.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

WE WILL start right off with the entree from this month's meeting of the GG's. These luncheons are a joy to attend and especially pleasing to me for it provides me with interesting and delicious recipes to share with you good cooks.

The hostess this month was Mrs. Fran Cohen of 1501 Thirty-fourth Avenue, San Francisco, and she knew just what to expect from me. For she had a copy of the recipe ready for me when I asked.

TAMALE LOAF

1 pound bottom round, ground fine
1 can black olives, medium-sized can
1 can whole kernel corn, large size
1 can solid pack tomatoes, large size
2 cups raw cornmeal
½ cup olive oil
2 tablespoons chili powder
2 eggs
1 cup milk
1 onion
1 clove garlic
2 tablespoons catsup
2 tablespoons worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper to taste

Mix all ingredients together in a large bowl. (It's great if your mixing bowl can be used to bake the loaf.) Otherwise, pour into a large casserole and bake very slowly in 325 degree oven for one hour or until done. Serve with mushroom sauce.

MUSHROOM SAUCE

¼ cup dried mushrooms
1 cup warm water
¼ cup olive oil
¼ teaspoon black pepper
2 garlic buds
1 large onion, shredded
1 Tablespoon minced parsley
1 teaspoon salt
1 Tablespoon sugar
2 cups canned tomatoes
1 can tomato sauce
½ cup water
1 bay leaf
2 whole cloves

Wash the dried mushrooms, cover with one cup warm water and let stand 30 minutes. Heat the olive oil in skillet and add garlic buds and black pepper. Cook until the garlic is brown; discard garlic and add the onion, parsley, salt and sugar. Cook until the vegatables are wilted but not brown.

Combine the tomatoes, tomato sauce, ½ cup water, bay leaf and cloves. Add to the vegetable mixture and simmer about 20 minutes. Finally, add the mushrooms and its liquid and let simmer 20 to 30 minutes more or until of a good sauce consistency.

LAST WEEK'S column featured cookies and cakes for picnics (and other jolly gatherings) that were easy to bake and take. There is one more that I tried for the first time this week and it is so good and so easy I want to share it with you.

Mrs. Loretto Booth of 2286 Seventeenth Avenue, San Francisco, gave me the recipe some time ago and, like you, I filed it away to try some time. Now that I've made it, I want to caution you not to file it away. Try it now. It's delish.

BLOSSOM CAKE

1 package yellow cake mix
4 eggs
1 cup water
½ cup oil
1 package vanilla instant pudding mix.

Blend all ingredients, then beat two minutes. Pour into well greased and floured 10-inch tube pan. Bake in 350-degree oven 40 to 45 minutes—or until center springs back when touched lightly. Cool right side up about 15 minutes, then remove from pan. Frost with a thin glaze.

Geraldine Cristoni Weds Vincent Ippolito at OLM

Geraldine Cristoni became Mrs. Vincent Ippolito recently in ceremonies at Our Lady of Mercy Church in Daly City. A reception was held in San Francisco.

The bride, a graduate of Westmoor High School, wore a traditional chantilly lace dress, street length and softly pleated with a controlled bell skirt. The dress had a batteau neckline and long pointed sleeves.

Acting as maid of honor was the bride's cousin, Barbara Cristoni. Her bridesmaid was Josephine Cristoni, a sister.

Serving as best man was the groom's brother, Carmine Ippolito. Ushers were Lynn Hodges and Dennis Murphy. A cousin, Vincent Ippolito, served as altar boy.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Melvin Cristoni, wore a blue silk suit and a pink gladiola corsage. The mother of the groom, Mrs. Ernest Onswarsky, was dressed in a green silk print.

The groom, also a Westmoor graduate, is presently attending College of San Mateo. The couple plans to make their home in Daly City.

NUT RAISIN RICE

Pine nuts and white raisins make an excellent addition to hot cooked rice to be served with roast or skewered lamb.

Divine Services

AND CHURCH ACTIVITIES OF DALY CITY, COLMA, PACIFICA AND SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

Final Service

B'NAI ISRAEL TEMPLE

The End of A Chapter

Congregation B'nai Israel will close a chapter in its history this week when it closes doors of the oldest synagogue building on the Peninsula.

The congregation will mark the occasion with two special services—the last at the temple at 67 Los Banos Avenue in Daly City. The building is being razed to make way for a $500,000 street improvement project.

The first service will be at 8:30 p.m. Friday to honor the past presidents of the congregation.

They are Ernest Hartmann, Rubin Pineus, Paul Lichtman, Irving Podelsky, Sherman Cohen, Ralph Welsh and Julius Michaelis.

The second service will be held outside the synagogue at 1 p.m. Sunday.

Mayor Micheal DeBernardi, high-ranking officials of Bay Area Jewry, members of the Daly City Ministerial Association and other civic and church leaders will take part in the ceremony.

The congregation is building a new synagogue on Annie Street in Colma.

B'nai Israel Temple was built in 1908 when scores of Jewish families came over the county line from San Francisco. There was no Jewish house of worship in San Mateo County at that time.

The congregation was reorganized in 1957 as a conservative congregation and Rabbi Solomon A. Shore became the spiritual leader.

Construction of the new temple on Annie Street ran into problems last year when the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors overturned a planning commission decision to grant a use permit.

The supervisors, however, held another meeting with Daly City and congregation officials and granted the permit after new plans for the temple were submitted.

Baha'is Faith Plan Special Rites Friday

The Baha'is of Daly City will commemorate the anniversary of the Ascension of Baha'u'llah (a Persion word meaning the Glory of God) on Friday at 1199 Brunswick Street at 3 a.m.

All 12 Baha'i Holy Days representing 12 principles of this world embracing religion, are celebrated at the same hour as that which the event celebrated occurred.

Regardless of the convenience of the hour this Holy Day service will be held, following the regular Thursday evening Fireside.

Gordon T. Burke, chairman of the Local Spiritual Assembly of Baha'is of Daly City, invites the public to attend the weekly Saturday firesides held at 8 p.m. The weekly discussion groups, held at 16 East Moltke Street, Apt. 35, discuss the essential message of the Baha'i faith, the oneness of mankind —the coming together of all peoples, races, nations, classes and religions in a spirit of understanding and unity of purpose under the guidance of one God.

New Officers Are Installed At Nazarene

Broadmoor Church of the Nazarene Sunday installed new congregation officers, inaugurating the church's 1964 - 65 year. Members of the board of trustees are:

Wesley Emel, Ernest McKenzie, Joseph Norton, Paul Garcia and Mrs. Lo Lemon. Stewards are Mrs. May Mitchell, Mrs. Earl Allen, Mrs. Richard Cowan, Mrs. Hubert Webb, Mrs. Neil Edwards Sr., Mrs. Floyd Owenby and Mrs. William Buser.

Mrs. H. R. Miller is the missionary president; Jerry Daubin, the Sunday school superintendent and Mrs. Charles Anderson, youth fellowship president.

At a prior annual meeting of the church, the Rev. Vernon E. Thomas, pastor, reported of increases in offerings for support of church work, both locally and worldwide.

He also reported increases in church membership and Sunday School enrollment and attendance.

Free Copter Ride Given

Bobby Carnahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carnahan, of 2455 Oakmont Drive, has been named the winner of a free helicopter ride over the Bay Area, as a result of his missionary endeavors for Bethlehem Lutheran Church.

Granting the award to Bobby at a recent Sunday school session was Don Brewer, manager of Surfside apartments in Pacifica, who is leader of the Sunday school at Bethlehem.

Brewer said that the winner was named according to the greatest number of new enrollees he brought to Sunday school and regular attendance. A similar contest will begin again soon for the summer months.

Bethlehem Lutheran Church is holding Sunday school in the Pacific Heights School while their building is under construction in Fairmont subdivision of Pacifica. Vacation Bible School for Bethlehem is set for August 17-21, at the Pacific Heights School. Rev. George S. Johnson is the pastor.

Dance Planned At Temple Judea

A spring dance will be held at the Temple Judea Fellowship Hall on Brotherhood Way Saturday from 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. to honor the single adult group.

Music will be suppled by Don Carle. Refreshments will be served and a $2 donation is required. More information may be obtained by calling Phillip Segal at UN 1-0758, DE 4-1929 or BA 1-8589.

Sisterhood Lunch Set

The Temple Judea Sisterhood Donor Luncheon, the first in the new Fellowship Hall, will be held next Wednesday at noon.

Television and Civic Light Opera personality Jan Nicols will be the featured guest at the gourmet catered lunch. Donor books and further information may be obtained by calling Rita Kaplan at PL 6-4320, Vera Cohn at PL 6-8662

84 Jehovah's Witnesses to Attend Convention in S.F.

Approximately 84 members of the Daly City Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will be delegates to the semi-annual circuit convention at the Scottish Rite Auditorium in San Francisco this weekend.

The three-day Bible seminar which begins Friday evening, is expected to reach a peak attendance of 2,000 from San Francisco and the Peninsula.

"The object of the convention," said local minister William Marks, "is to equip everyone of the preaching fellowship of Jehovah's Witnesses in the practical use of the Bible as a help in fortifying the spiritual morale of people in our community."

Marks' remarks came at the conclusion of the weekly ministry-development class held at Kingdom Hall on Alemany Boulevard.

Congregation meetings will be cancelled during the assembly weekend, he said.

A free two-hour color film will be shown as a special feature of the program Saturday evening at 7 p.m. The film produced by the Watchtower Society shows what is being done world-wide to aid persons religiously.

COMMENT

Verducci, Werder And Fitzgerald

THE TASK of decision before San Mateo County voters in choosing three county supervisors at next Tuesday's primary election has two phases, one of them easy and the other very difficult.

The easy part is deciding to retain two incumbent supervisors, William M. Werder—a veteran member of the board now completing his fourteenth year as a supervisor, and James V. Fitzgerald—a very competent public official now completing his first term and unopposed for a second term. Both men have demonstrated outstanding ability and have given strong leadership to the board of supervisors. Both possess experience and training vastly valuable to good county government.

It is easy, therefore, for The Post to recommend to its readers that they re-elect James V. Fitzgerald as supervisor of the first district by an appreciative and resounding complimentary vote, and that they re-elect William M. Werder as supervisor of the fourth district by a vote of equal appreciation for good services well rendered. Each of them deserves and has richly earned re-election.

THE DIFFICULT choice is in choosing a supervisor for the fifth district where the present incumbent, Alvin S. Hatch, is retiring after 28 years of distinguished service.

There are four candidates, all of them worthy and two of them particularly well and favorably known to all the people of San Mateo County. The Post feels that most voters will choose from between Daly City ex-mayor Joseph Verducci and Pacifica ex-mayor Mrs. Jean Fassler.

Both have outstanding records of public and civic service. Both are highly personable and have shown high qualities of leadership.

But, unfortunately, only one can be elected—a fact that seems truly a waste when two such excellent candidates have offered themselves.

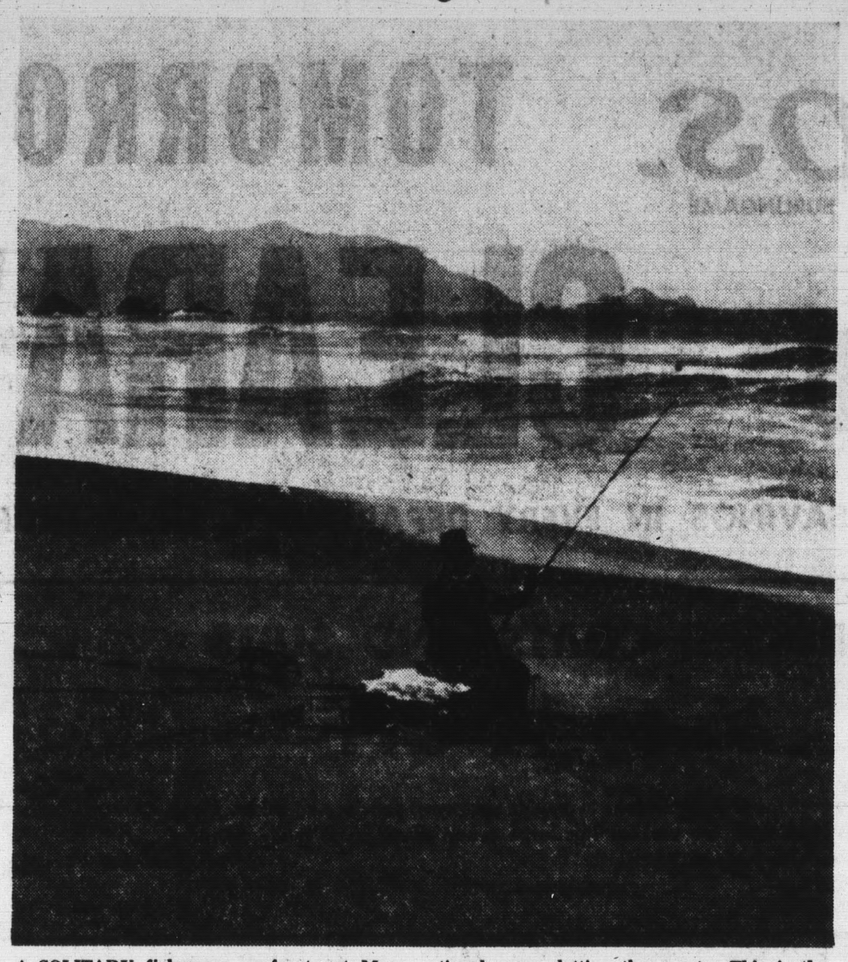
However, each voter must make his own choice and after long study The Post has chosen to support and recommend the candidacy of Joseph Verducci. The choice has been made in certainty that he will make an excellent county official, not only in the coming four years — but for many years to come. His vigor and vitality shown as an athlete, an educator, and as a civic official, are virtual assurance that he will continue long in public service.

IN ANALYZING his 12-year career as a mayor and councilman in Daly City, it is striking to note that he won the trust of local voters time afer time even though, on occasion, he felt obliged to espouse unpopular projects in fulfilling his civic responsibilities. It is already proven that he will not yield to the irresponsible pressures to which political figures are sometimes subjected.

In the next four years there may be a number of such pressure strategies attempting to influence the board of supervisors. The good of the county needs supervisors of sufficient strength to resist and act for the good of all of the people of the county.

Having made its choice, The Post recommends and urges upon its readers the election of Joseph Verducci in the Fifth Supervisorial District, and the re-election of William M. Werder and James V. Fitzgerald in the fourth and first districts.

Surf-Casting at Montara



A SOLITARY fisherman surfcasts at Montara Beach while his pet dachshund explores the sandy surroundings. The beach is one of several that grace San Mateo County's Pacific shoreline and is one of a raft of recreational areas dotting the county. This is the first of a series of pictures, to appear published weekly on this page, depicting parks, beaches and national monuments within a day's driving time of the North County.

Yosemite Is In Fine Voice

Don Miller

A COUPLE of months ago, a kind of gloom settled over that awesome work of nature—Yosmite, the land of falling waters and soaring granite.

It was the result of reports that the Sierra snow pack was considerably less this year and that, consequently, the rivers and streams that give Yosemite so much of its magic would not be nearly so broad and busy as they usually are in the springtime.

The prospect of Yosemite minus anything less than the full roar of its majestic waterfalls and wandering streams was therefore, sad news to California's legion of hikers, campers, fishermen and that ever-growing band of folk who simply flee the world of macadam and mayhem for the wonders of Yosemite each spring.

Well, the gloom, we're happy to report, has lifted from this land of "noblest forests"—in the words of John Muir—for Yosemite this spring has never been in finer voice—nor in finer fettle.

A late spring snowfall laid down a thick blanket of white about a month ago over the high country—somewhat to the chagrin of fishermen but to the delight of Yosemite buffs.

The blanket of snow is now undergoing the usual metamorphosis and as a result, Yosemite's waters are quite up to par. In fact, they exceed the norm in some areas in rather spectacular fashion.

This happy state of affairs seems to have had a stimulating effect on some of Yosemite's permanent population—the feathered set—for we don't recall ever having heard the jays, the black-headed grosbeaks, the western bluebirds and the rest of the winged crowd sound so joyous and so full of throat as they did this past weekend.

THIS WAS our fourth trip to Yosemite and following a format established early in these stories, it again was a trip of exploration.

Exploring is truly one of the magnetic attractions of Yosemite. The park can be explored again and again virtually without traversing the same path twice.

In fact, Yosemite has 700 miles of trails that wind over elevations ranging from the 4,000 feet level of Yosemite Valley to the 10,000 plus of the really high country above and beyond the valley floor.

The trails range from short hikes through verdant valley forests and along the swift-moving Merced River to the highly-challenging John Muir trail, which meanders over 212 miles of high country wilderness, climbs to the Tuolumne Meadows and ends at Whitney Portal in Inyo National Forest.

Undoubtedly the most popular Yosemite trail for hikers with several days to spend in the outdoors is the high Sierra loop—a 53-mile adventure starting in Yosemite Valley, proceeding up through Tuolumne Meadows and making its way back to the valley floor again.

On this journey through a largely untouched land of forest, meadow, river and mountain, hikers may pack their own gear and call it quits each nightfall at any one of a number of campsites. Food can be replenished—if need be—at six high Sierra camps, situated about 10 miles apart on the loop trail.

SINCE THESE more ambitious ventures can hardly be squeezed into an altogether too short weekend, our Yosemite exploration this time was a spirited hike up the top of 594-foot Nevada Fall, one of several waterfalls that can be found in the park.

Some of these waterfalls, incidentally, dry up in the summer and if the winter season has been particularly short of snow, they may not even get going at any appreciable rate at all.

The climb to the crest of Nevada is a hefty hike of a little more than three miles. The trail offers the Yosemite visitor a close-up look at the granite domes and pinnacles that more than any other geological feature give Yosemite a special place in the nation's treasury of natural attractions.

For about the first mile, the trail is the same as the one you follow to reach Vernal Fall—another adventure that we concluded a year ago would be a tough match for any out-of-shape boulevardier.

AFTER THIS first mile, you branch off the Vernal Fall trail and begin the long ascent to Nevada Fall. You quickly notice a remarkable drop in trail traffic for it seems that the path to Vernal is the James Lick Freeway of Yosemite on a busy weekend while the longer jaunt to Nevada might be compared to the road to Stinson Beach at 2 in the morning.

As the trail gradually ascends the world seems to fall away below, the enormity of the stone masses and the vastness of Yosemite, in general, has a very leveling effect—you cannot help but feel quite small.

Then, finally, at the top of Nevada Fall, you gaze out over one of the Valhallas of Yosemite — a panorama of tumbling river, mist-born rainbow and a forest of pines that resemble cathedral spires.

Looking out over this panorama must be compared with something like drinking the nectar of the gods.

Given some time to do the drinking, you'll find the experience absolutely intoxicating.

North County Notebook

They'll Honor Chinese Belief

Ron Bates

A CHINESE belief that you can't be buried by being brought through the back door is causing somewhat of a head ache between the developers of Serramonte (formerly known as the Christen Ranch) and Daly City officials.

The problem was created when the developers closed off one road to do some grading and the state decided to close off the other end to build a freeway. This left a back road as the only entrance to the Chinese Cemetery, which is located smack dab in the middle of the development.

It seems that only convicts and criminals can be taken in the back way.

In discussing the problem with some people, I unearthed (pun intended) some very interesting facts. Believe me, it is anything but a dead subject.

When plans for the Christen Ranch lands were first revealed, the question came up: "What will happen to the cemetery." The answer then was to move it and the suburban people began bargaining with the cemetery owners to trade them for land closer to the cemeteries in Colma.

NOW THE THOUGHT of moving a cemetery sounded kind of grisly to me at first. It seemed that it would be a lot of trouble. But the more I've talked to people, the less of a problem I think it would be.

In the case of Chinese Cemetery, I am told, it would be easier than another type of cemetery. The Chinese exhume their dead every ten years. The bones are scraped clean and then replaced in a box.

You've no doubt heard of measuring a person for a coffin. Well, the size of this type of box would be determined by the length of the largest bone in your body — the one that runs from the hip to the knee.

These boxes are very clearly inscribed, which would make any transfer of remains very orderly.

THIS WAS NOT the case when a couple of cemeteries in San Francisco were moved to make way for progress. Quite often, the records listed a child in a plot where a full grown person was supposed to have been buried.

When Calvary Cemetery was moved, however, it was thought that all the bodies had been transferred. Then when workmen began to grade the land, more bodies were found.

Among the bodies were those of some Spanish conquistadors who had been buried with gold and jewels. It was reported that some of the workmen made off with some of what they found.

There is another Chinese belief that a deceased person is honored when his bones are sent back to his homeland — China. With the mainland in control of the Communist, the likelihood of sending some of the boxes back to China is very dim.

AS IT STANDS now, though, the Chinese Cemetery is standing pat—staying exactly where it is. The Serramonte developers, although frustrated with their attempt to move the burial ground, are doing everything they can to honor the Chinese Cemetery Association's wishes.

They will build a new all-weather road and maintain it until the subdivision's permanent roads are completed.

Meanwhile, the normal quiet of the cemetery will be disturbed by the grind of construction activity all around.

THE SUPERVISOR battle in the fifth district between Joe Verducci, Jean Fassler, Hugh Blowers may not be over this Tuesday.

The winner has to pull 50 per cent plus one of the votes cast to end it all. If he doesn't, then the top two vote-getters go into a runoff in November.

This may turn out to be an expensive campaign for everybody concerned.

A Caesar Surprise

Barbara Bladen

A LUNCHEON invitation from Sid Ceasar, who is starring in "Little Me" at the Curran Theatre, conjured visions in my mind of an off-stage performance right at the table with patrons around us unable to eat for eavesdropping on the hilarious dialogue and antic gestures.

I was never so wrong or quite so surprised than to find television's funniest man to be a shy, almost inaudible and extremely self-conscious man.

We sat virtually unnoticed, he with folded hands and lowered eyelids and me with my pencil poised for quick transcription of quips. But we could have been discussing banking procedure, he was so conservative and polite.

The star of the Patrick Dennis play has reason to conserve his energy. During his musical chair portrayal of seven characters, he has 23 costume changes. Most of them are trick outfits which snap down both sides or are reversible or fit inside each other. But the physical strain is still enormous. He has been doubly hampered the past two weeks with a badly cut hand from tripping in his hotel room and falling onto a glass. The bandage is bulky and very noticeable.

"I keeled over during a New York performance from exhaustion," he recalled. "My understudy went on in the next scene and I was back the next day." What does he do for relaxation? "I sleep, that's all, just sleep."

ALTHOUGH the show only enjoyed a nine-month run on Broadway (the New York newspaper strike killed show business), the re-assembled cast is doing great on the road. Audiences are loving the raucous comedy and especially the zany antics of the ubiquitous Caesar. It shuffles off to Los Angeles on June 6 and would probably be welcomed back to New York with open arms.

Caesar's brand of humor is difficult to analyze. It's not so much what he says or does, but the look of surprise on his face when he's in character. Things seem to happen to him, as when he is accidentally killed (several times during the play) or loses his country's treasury at the roulette table, or is impeached as governor of both the Dakotas for taking a drink.

I saw the Cinerama film "Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World" a second time to concentrate on his performance and the same formula held true. Caesar's ace in the hole is his complete susceptibility to circumstances. If anything is going wrong, you can be sure he'll be on the receiving end. Other than that, he's "the guy next door," a nice fellow who attracts trouble.

KING EDWARD VII By Phillip Magnus. E. P. Dutton. $8.50.

EDWARD VII was a fascinating and complex man who lived in a fascinating and complex era. The man and his era are secribed wittily and well in this book, which comes to America after months atop the best-seller lists in Britain.

Edward's contemporaries including his family, tended to overestimate him or (more often to underestimate him, but Magnus does neither, and much of the effectiveness of the book comes from the detachment with which the author views England's king from 1901 through mid-1910. Magnus sees Edward as a man with a well-earned reputation for loving and living life to the fullest, but also as a man with a devotion to God, country and family that noble and commoner alike must strive mightily to match.

THE BOOK is slow reading at the outset, mainly because of Magnus' efforts to give a full picture of the austere circumstances and people—Queen Victoria and Prince Albert in particular — surrounding Edward during his boyhood.

But the pace quickens (so did Edward's) as youth and then manhood are reached, and the rest of the book is fairly jammed with personal and official glimpses of the people and events encountered by Edward between 1855 and 1910.

For this was the time when kings could rule rather than reign, when India was a magic land that was "the richest jewel of the Empire," when Disraeli and Gladstone and Franz-Joseph and the Kaiser and the Czar were names in the headlines rather than in the history books, when the Light Brigade charged into the jaws of hell.

Magnus catches the sweep of the times, but his 500 pages give him plenty of room for the individuals — Lily Langtry, Lord Balfour, Bismarck, Kitchener and a young man who attracted attention and sparked controversy even then . . . Winston Churchill.

Joseph L. Benham

FOUR AGAINST EVEREST. By Woodrow Wilson Sayre. Prentice Hall. $5.95.

AMONG true adventure stories, Sayre's book surely must stand out not only for its colorful account of great risks, but also for its almost incredible series of hairline escapes, which can be credited only to the luck of fate, or a whole platoon of guardian angels.

It is a story of four amateur mountain climbers of limited experience, trying in 1962 to reach the top of Mt. Everest (29,028 feet) by way of the difficult North Face, a route for which there is no recorded climb that was successful.

The "old men" of the little expedition were the author, then 43, who teaches philosophy at Tufts, and his longtime friend, Norman C. Hansen, 36, a Boston lawyer. The youngsters were Roger A. Hart, 21, a geology student at Tufts, and a Swiss citizen whom the trio picked up en route, Hanpeter Duttle.

Sayre tells his story with an engaging mixture of acute observation and a terrifying unconsciousness of how many times these men slapped the face of fate. He writes well, tells all. Except that he fails to credit the guardian angels, who must have had some nervous breakdowns.

Slow Burn Over 'Ticky, Tacky'

George Whitesell

THIS DEPARTMENT doesn't pop its cork very often, but today we are spouting like an overdue batch of home brew.

We have been doing a slow burn over that "little boxes" and "ticky-tacky" bit of synthetic corn for quite a while.

So during a weekend we conducted some explorations into the "little boxes" country to find out the real score. What we discovered really stirred up our yeast.

In case the gentle reader is fortunate enough to not know what we are talking about, this "little boxes" and "ticky-tacky" routine comes from one of those phony modern folk songs that are the current ersatz of the amusement trade.

The song describes the growing tract subdivisions of the Peninsula as covered with 'litt'le boxes made of "ticky-tacky."

Not content with this, it declares that the people who live in the "little boxes," and their childrne, are also made of "ticky-tacky."

And, after this column, there is no doubt whatever but that this department will promptly be labeled "ticky-tacky." This is a risk we gladly take.

Actually, "ticky-tacky" has no meaning. It was meant to sound derisive. It succeeds in sounding dirty.

WHAT WE found in the "little boxes" country was wonderful and American. It wasn't "little boxes" and it wasn't "ticky-tacky."

It was a vast array of honest American householders, happy in the possession of the best homes they could afford, and, ranging from $18,500 to as high as $55,000, what they could afford is not peanuts in anybody's book.

The houses are well-designed, architecturally well-planned, built of modern materials and equipped with finest new modern devices for making life more pleasant. They were well-lighted, airy, marvels of convenience, and pleasing to the eye with their clean lines. Most of the models we looked at had two bathrooms and some had three or even more. Despite mass construction methods, they do not have any monotonous sameness except from an aerial view — and from that view nearly all houses, except mansions set in ten or so acres, look alike.

The people we found living in these subdivisions were nice folks, thoroughly appreciative of their homes. Lawns and shrubs, and attractive landscaping, gave testimony to their pride and care. They were people courageous and thrifty enough to make a big investment for the health and happiness of their families, and they were enjoying life.

NOW (and here is why we get sore) where does a bunch of graduate beatnicks, many of them unwashed and a lot of them afraid to shave and show their chins, get the right to call people like these good Americans "ticky-tacky" and claim they live in "little boxes"?

How do they get the call to sit in dank cellars, get juiced on cheap wine, and wail a critical, phony folk song through their adenoids?

Living in their own one-room pads, equipped with a dirty mattress, a jug, an off-key guitar, and a set of New Jersey bongo drums, how do they become judges of how Americans should live?

What is their ideal of "home sweet home"—a cold-water walkup on the fifth floor of a decayed tenement building?

WE ADDRESS the same query to the better-heeled dilettantes of the folk-song circles who apparently don't give a damn how their fellow-Americans live, or if they live at all.

These are the real culprits, the smart-aleck critics who find fault with everything that is not in their own selfish circles and take the position that there are too many of the common people anyway.

They are the cultists of the phony—the old traditional folk song that was written last week, the novels no one can read, the poetry that no one can understand, the jazz so "cool" it is frozen, the "sculpture" of worthless old junk, and the nonobjective painting by no-talent daubers.

Even so, we are willing to allow these nogoodniks to have their own opinions as long as they don't try to throw dirt on everyone else.

In our book, we find it marvelous that we live in a lusty, growing country where so many people have their own homes and are clean, healthy and happy.

Never did so many have it so good.

And if that be "ticky-tacky" they can make the most of it.

COAST CHAMBER TALK

Successor Firm To Oddstad Has Ambitious Plans

The successor company to the building empire founded by the late Andrew (Andy) Oddstad has scheduled an ambitious building program in Pacifica over the next several years, members of the city's Chamber of Commerce have been told.

In a speech to a chamber luncheon session at the Edgemar, Gordon W. Hanson, president of Challenge Contracting Company, noted that his firm's major project will be the construction of new homes in the new Park Pacifica area in the city's southern region.

About 1,250 homes will be built in Park Pacifica over a seven-year period, he said, and added that he hoped first models would be open by November 15.

The company currently is completing homes in Sun Valley.

Hanson opened his remarks with an explanation of the reorganization of Oddstad Homes into the new company, Challenge Contracting.

Challenge, he said, was formerly a subsidiary of Oddstad Homes. It was purchased by four senior executives of Oddstad two months after the death of the founder of the home building concern.

Oddstad died January 22 of injuries suffered in an auto collision on a freeway near Fresno.

Other officers of Challenge are John B. O'Malley, vice president and treasurer, formerly vice president and controller of Oddstad Homes; C. A. Trifeletti, vice president in charge of land engineering and formerly another Oddstad vice president, and Elma D. Oddstad, sister of the late builder, secretary, formerly vice president and secretary of Oddstad Homes.

Oddstad Homes Incorporated remains as a holding company for the real estate holdings of Oddstad's widow, Hanson said.

In addition to building homes in Park Pacifica, Challenge also has drawn up a program of apartment house construction in Pacifica.

The program includes multiple-story apartments for the Milagra Ridge area that would use concrete as the primary building material.

The Milagra apartments, Hanson added, are two to three years away. He said they would command a "magnificent" view of the Pacific.

Hanson estimated that with the land Challenge now owns, a five-year program of building about 500 homes a year can be accomplished.

2 Directors Re-elected by Coast C of C

Two directors of the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce have been re-elected to four-year terms and a new director has been named for a similar term.

Re-elected were Nita Buchanan of Mode O'Day, vice president of the chamber, and Lloyd Sitts of S & S Developers, a former president of the organization.

The new director is Hal Duncan, owner of Hal's Cleaners, who was named to replace William Drake, publisher of The Pacifica Tribune.

Drake had not been named by a nominating committee, which Mort Levinson, a director, termed an oversight.

Levinson then nominated Drake but the publisher declined, indicating that he felt there might be a conflict of interest in his role as a director.

The board of directors will elect new officers for the 1964-65 year. Mario Torrigino of the Coastside Scavenger Company is the current chamber president.

Pacifica Council Actions

At its last meeting, the Pacifica Council also took these actions in addition to those previously reported:

AGREED to set up a study session to discuss improvement of Rosita Road between Linda Mar and Terra Nova boulevards.

AGREED to ask the Westview Improvement Association to appoint a city representative to the Colma Creek Flood Control District.

DISCUSSED at length the city's anti-noise ordinance after receiving a complaint from a representative of the Playtime Ice Cream Company of San Bruno, but took no action.

REFERRED to City Manager Baldwin a request from the Fairmont Improvement Association for stop signals on Skyline Boulevard at Hickey Boulevard.

WENT ON RECORD as favoring a dump in Green Valley in the Devil's Slide area after receiving suggestions from the county's engineer's office of three possible dump locations in the Pacifica area. The other locations suggested were near Skyline Boulevard and Sharp Park Road and in the Frontierland Valley.

CONTINUED to this veening a complaint from the Rockaway Beach Progressive Club of dumping on Sea Bowl Drive at Troglia Terrace.

AGREED to set up a meeting of all interested parties on horse riding trails and the possibility of an equestrian crossing across Cabrillo Highway after receiving a request from the safety committee asking such a crossing.

It was agreed that horseback riders should be kept away from the highway to prevent an accident similar to one recently when a teen-aged girl was dragged down the highway by the horse she was riding after the animal became frightened.

REFERRED to the attorney and the park, beach and recreation commission a proposal from the Pacifica Co-operative Nursery School that it be allowed to use a quonset hut in Pomo Park.

RECEIVED a recommendation from the park, beach and recreation commission that no ordinance be adopted regulating dances as proposed by the North County Council.

Councilmen agreed to study the matter further after Mrs. Sheila Hyman, commission chairman, reported a "code of performance" for dances is now being prepared.

RECEIVED word from members of a civic center committee that they are planning to re-activate their committee and will hold a meeting une 2.

KQED Sale Opens 6-Day Run Monday

The tenth anniversary auction for educational television station KQED will begin Monday for a six-day run.

The auction will run a day longer than in previous years. It will strive to surpass the amount raised last year, $124,000, which provided more than 20 per cent of the station's operating budget for the year.

The auction will be telecast continuously on Channel 9 from 3 p.m. until midnight on the first five days and from 2 p.m. Saturday, June 6, until the "next-to-last" bottle of champagne is sold early the next morning.

Among the items donated to the auction to date are a one and a half acre homesite in Thomas Larkin Woods near the Russian River; a build-it-yourself Gyroglider; an old square Steinway grand piano; a 1923 Buick touring car and a 1931 Pontiac.

Auction chairman is Mrs. George Burgess. Mrs. Dmitri Barton and Mrs. Mortimer Fleishhacker III are vice chairmen.

Menus Change With the Season

As seasons change, so must menus. Thus, with spring an established fact and summer lazily awaiting its turn, meal time does give one pause.

by the Junior League of Charlesby the Junior League of Charleston offers a collection of 700 favorite Carolina lowcounty recipes, many of which have survived for generations to become today's treasured legacies. But whatever their vintage, these recipes put the accent on variety and taste appeal. Here are a few suggestions for the months ahead.

Grading of Beef Serves Homemaker

bundant supplies of beef are coming to market at attractive prices. Homemakers will want to serve favorite cuts often to satisfy spring appetites and give their families top value nutrition-wise, too. Here are some facts about grading beef.

PRIME, a grade seldom found in the markets as it contains more finish than the average consumer cares to buy. This grade is usually purchased by some hotels and restaurants.

CHOICE, probably the most popular grade. The top of the grade is very close to prime and the entire grade gives wide consumer satisfaction.

GOOD, usually from young cattle that has all the tenderness and flavor of choice but does not carry as much finish.

STANDARD, young cattle that are not finished to a high degree.

COMMERCIAL, usually older cattle that contain a great deal of flavor but are not always dependable in regards to tenderness.

The last are the four grades usually available to the average consumer. All of these grades in and day out.
are equal in nutritional value and are purchased depending on the varying desires of the individual consumer.

The grading system is useful to the industry in pricing carcasses or primal cuts. Even when beef does not have a grade stamp on it when you purchase it, it will fall in one of these USDA grades. Consumers can patronize their favorite retailer with confidence, for this retailer stakes his success and livelihood on being able to satisfy his regular customers

QUICK SUPPER

For a quick supper make patties from canned salmon and brown in butter in a skillet. Add canned green peas to white sauce and serve over the patties. For the patties, mix the flaked salmon with bread crumbs and egg and a little milk.

Plan Ahead for Picnic— A Checklist Saves Time

There's an art to packing the picnic basket whether it's a spur-of-the-moment one or a plan-ahead picnic. What foods to pack are determined by where the picnic will take place and the kind of picnic equipment you have at home.

Some picnickers enjoy a basket packed on the grand scale, complete with a pate and chilled wine, and others want nothing more than a sturdy sandwich or two along with fruit and cookies.

A basic picnic checklist is handy to tack up on the kitchen bulletin board. It might read something like this:

Paper plates, hot and cold paper cups
Paper napkins, picnic cloth (plastic, paper)
Plastic forks, spoons
Salt and pepper shakers
Knives, roasting fork
Matches
Bottle or can opener (unless cans)
Bottle or can opener (unless you have "tab" openers on cans)
Thermos and-or bacuum jug
Foil, plastic wrap, paper towels
Insect repellent

Buying basic picnic supplies in quantity, such as paper plates and cups, is a sensible maneuver. They're inexpensive so don't stint on quality and choose some of the cheerful designs. A conoglaze plastic coating eliminates "paper taste" and makes outdoor eating even more appetizing.

Remember the thermos or vacuum jug has many uses. Fill it with hot suops, chili, baked beans, or chilled potato salad as well as reserving one for beverages.

Cake and pie will travel nicely between paper plates sealed together with tape. This is also a handy way to pack a sandwich plate. Mark either the name of the fussy customer or the sandwich filling on the outside. Paper cups are convenient containers for serving hot foods, condiments and desserts.

Here's a hearty "Picnic Beanstrone" that travels well in a thermos and easily rounds out a picnic menu of sandwiches and fruit. It's only minutes in the making because the basis is condensed canned soups. No picnic basket is complete without cookes, try these "Peanut Butter Drops."

..PICNIC BEANSTRONE..
1 cup diced cooked ham
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 can (11¾ ounces) condensed bean with bacon soup
2 soup cans water
1 can (10¾ounces) condensed minestrone soup

Brown ham and onion in butter. Stir in bean with bacon soup; blend in water. Add minestrone soup. Heat; stir often. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

PEANUT BUTTER DROPS
1 cup cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ cup creamy peanut butter
¼ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
2 eggs
1 cup raisins or chopped dates
¼ cup milk

Sift the flour and measure it Sift again with baking powder.

Sift the flour and measure it Sift again with baking powder. Mix the peanut butter, shortening, and sugar thoroughly. Add beaten eggs to mixture and beat well. Add raisins or chopped dates, then flour, alternating with milk. Blend well. Drop from a teaspoon onto a lightly greased, floured cookie sheet. Bake in mdderate oven, 350 degrees F. approximately 10 minutes. Makes about two dozen cookies.

Try Veal Chops Hungarian Style

The average homemaker too often forgets that veal is a wonderful meat, versatile enough to star in any number of international dishes. Here, thick veal chops are given the Hungarian touch in honor of National Barbecue Month, June 1-30. Marinate according to recipe for several hours; then drain and sprinkle with Kitchen Bouquet, an herb and vegetable brush-on, before cooking. Cook slowly, about 40 minutes, about 5 inches above the hot coals. Serve topped with sour cream. Authentic go-withs: sliced cucumber salad and noodles with caraway seeds.

Marinade for Veal Chops

½ cup dry white wine
⅔ cup salad oil
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon garlic powder
1 teaspoon Kitchen Bouquet

Combine above ingredients to pour over chops. Marinate in refrigerator.

Apricot Recipes From Producers

The Post and Times have received a list of apricot recipes prepared by the Apricot Producers of California. Readers may enjoy trying some of them.

PORK AND APRICOT LOAF

1 pound ground ham
1 pound ground pork
¾ cup milk
1½ cups soft bread crumbs
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 eggs
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
½ cup chopped dried apricots
¼ cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon flour

Combine milk and bread crumbs. Add ham, pork, onion, parsley, eggs, mustard and apricots. Mix thoroughly. Mix together brown sugar and flour. Sprinkle sugar-flour mixture evenly on bottom of a greased 5x9-inch loaf pan. Pack in meat mixture. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 1¼ hours or until done. 8 servings.

APRICOT POUND CAKE

1½ cups apricot halves (1-pound, 14-ounce can)
2¼ cups sifted flour
1½ teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup butter
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
4 eggs, unbeaten
¼ chopped walnuts

Drain apricot halves and cut each into 4 pieces on absorbent paper. (Reserve 1 cup juice for sauce, recipe below.) Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter, gradually adding the sugar, creaming well. Continue beating until light and fluffy, 5 to 8 minutes. Blend in orange rind and eggs, one at a time, beating well after each egg. Blend in dry ingredients and mix thoroughly. Fold in apricots. Turn into 9 or 10-inch fluted or angel food tube pan, well greased, sprinkled with sugar then with ¼ cup walnuts. Bake at 350 degrees for 55 to 65 minutes. Cool. Serve, cut in thin slices or in wedges with warm sauce.

APRICOT SAUCE

Combine in saucepan 1 cup apricot juice, ¼ cup orange juice, 1 tablespoon cornstarch and ¾ teaspoon salt. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Blend in 1 tablespoon butter.

APRICOT JEWELS

1¼ cups sifted flour
¾ cup sugar
1½ teaspoon double-acting baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter
1-3 cup cream cheese
½ cup flaked coconut
½ cup apricot preserves

Sift into mixing bowl the flour, sugar, baking powder, salt. Cut in the butter and cream cheese until particles are fine. Add coconut and preserves, blending thoroughly. Drop dough by teaspoonsful onto ungreased cookie 15 to 18 minutes until lightly sheets. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 to 18 minutes until lightly browned. Cool and frost. Makes about 2½ dozen cookies.

APRICOT FROSTING

Combine 1 cup sifted powdered sugar with 1 tablespoon soft butter and ¼ cup apricot preserves. Beat until smooth.

APRICOT-NUT COFFEE BREAD

1 can refrigerated biscuits
Apricot jam
½ cup chopped nuts
3 maraschino cherries

Roll each biscuit into a 6-inch strip; brush with jam and roll in nuts. Curve a strip into a crescent shape with ends turned the opposite direction, overlapping first crescent slightly. Continue with the remaining biscuits, alternating direction of crescents and press together slightly. Brush with more jam; garnish with cherry halves. Bake in hot oven, 425 degrees, 14 to 17 minutes. Remove from baking sheet immediately. Serve warm.

APRICOT JAM

4 pounds apricots (stoned and cut up)
4 pounds sugar
¾ pint water
Juice of 1 lemon

Put the water, lemon juice and cut up apricots with some of the kernels in a pan and bring to a boil. Cook until tender and add the sugar. Bring back to a boil and boil hard until it sets when tested. Turn into jars, cover and label. To vary the flavor, add a sliced banana just before taking the jam from the heat.

Scallopini Is Made a New Way

Scallopini is likely to be a favorite with your family — but wait now until you make it this new way! The flavor magic of ripe olives is destined to give this scallopini (we call it "Veal Veronica") a new top spot on your list of special dishes. And see how easy it is to make:

..VEAL VERONICA..
(serves 4 to 6)

1½ lbs. thin veal steak, cut in 1 by 3-inch strips
¼ cup lemon or lime uice
Flour, salt, pepper
Oil or butter
¼ tsp. grated lemon peel
1½ cups chicken stock
¼ tsp. sweet basil
1 (4 oz.) can mushroom stems and pieces, undrained
¼ cup pitted Ripe Olives, sliced

Have your butcher flatten veal to about ¼-inch thickness. Cut into strips; sprinkle with lemon juice and let stand for an hour. Drai on paper towels and dredge with seasoned flour. Heat butter or oil in skillet. Saute veal slowly on both sides until golden brown. Add remaining ingredients. Cover and simmer gently, stirring frequently, for half an hour, or until meat is fork-tender. An attractive and delicious accompaniment is a rice ring filled with green peas.

RICE MIXES WELL

Save a serving dish at clean-up time! Mix cooked rice with cooked green peas or cooked chopped spinach and serve in one dish. Both the peas and the spinach taste fine with the rice, especially when seasoned with butter, salt and pepper.

A Coffee Break Route to Travel

Many people say that traveling by car is no fun anymore. In a way, of course, they are right. Traffic is heavy everywhere.

Car travel can still be fun, however, if a little patience is packed along with the road maps. Then be sure to take along the fixings for a few relaxing roadside coffee breaks. They will help to take the pressure off the driving.

The roadside coffee break makes surprisingly good sense. Authorities say that most automobile accidents are caused by fatigue and tension on the road. The remedy, they suggest, is to stop frequently — once every hour or so — for coffee. The coffee not only gives you a lift, but also a chance to stretch your legs. This is especially necessary, now that safety belts hold us so firmly in place while we ride.

For traveling, hot coffee stays hot for a long time in a vacuum bottle. It should be packed black, however, and cream carried separately. Here's a delicious bite to accompany the coffee — baking powder biscuits, split and filled with either of these two easy-to-do mixtures. Enjoy your roadside coffee break and let the cars whiz by. You'll arrive at your destination, safe, sound and sassy!

Peanut Filling

½ cup creamy peanut butter
1 tablespoon drained sweet pickle relish
1 tablespoon chili sauce
Few drops Tabasco

Cheese Filling

½ cup sharp cheddar cheese spread
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon minced stuffed olives

Emphasize Salmon To Help Alaska

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall has announced that the Fish and Wildlife Service's Bureau of Commercial Fisheries will co-operate with the Alaska canned salmon industry in an industry-government promotion campaign to move the present liberal stocks of canned pink salmon into trade channels.

Fishing is Alaska's largest industry, Secreatry Udall commented, and the American public can help boost Alaska's economic recovery from the March 27 earthquake by serving more canned salmon.

The nationwide campaign now getting underway is geared to reach its peak during May, June, and July. Although record stocks of canned pink salmon are now available, spokesmen of the industry are confidennt that the present inventories can be substantially reduced because canned salmon fits so well in warm weather menus.

With a stock of this versatile canned food on their shelves, housewives can provide their families with a variety of appetizing and quick and easy to prepare summer meals, said the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries. In addition, they will find that canned pink salmon is an economical, no-waste, high-protein food that is an excellent source of vitamins, minerals, and other nutrients. Budget-minded housewives will find that loaves, croquettes, and casserole dishes prepared from canned pink salmon are extremely practical.

Secretary Udall said the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries will give special emphasis to canned pink salmon in its contacts with consumer groups, schools, other institutions, and the food trade associations. In addition, special materials are being prepared for distribution to newspapers and television and radio stations to provide maximum consumer attention to the availability of this convenient seafood.

The Department of Agriculture also is co-operating in this program and canned pink salmon will be listed in the June "List of Foods in Plentiful Supply." The Agriculture Department likewise will distribute specially designed merchandising tips to the retail grocery trade with the recommendation that increased merchandising attention be given canned pink salmon at the local level.

Shrimp in Basket For Good Eating

Watch the young and light hearted tuck away this Shrimp-in-the-Basket. There stands the noble loaf, brown and crusty, hollowed and bulging with shrimp and cheese, with avocado and juicy tomato slices. To serve, cut in great inviting chunks, for either fork or finger eating.

As for its savory zestiness of flavor . . . deluxe French dressing blended through the shrimp and toasted crumb filling can take the bow for that. The mild sweetness of the shrimp comes through but with an overtone of frisky flavor bestowed by the dressing. Bring on the loaf for lunch, for supper, or for any gay informal doin'. It's happy eating!

1 pound fresh shrimp, shelled, deveined, cooked
1 loaf Italian bread
3 tablespoons soft butter or margarine
1/2 cup Wish-Bone Deluxe French Dressing
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 medium tomato, cut i 1/2 inch slices
6 slices (6 ounces) Swiss cheese
1 small avocado

Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Cut off top of bread. Then make a bread basket by scooping out center; crumble soft bread and toast it in oven for 5 to 10 minutes until crisp and golden. Meanwhile butter inside of loaf of bread including top; line sides and bottom with cheese slices. Reserve 12 shrimp for top garnish. In medium bowl blend deluxe French dressing with mustard; then add toasted crumbs and remaining shrimp. Fill bread "basket" with shrimp mixture. Halve tomato slices, tuck in laying against cheese slices. Peel and slice avocado. Arrange slices alternately with reserved shrimp. Then cover with top of bread. Wrap in foil and bake in hot oven for 15 minutes until cheese is melted. Makes 6 servings.

Popular 'Surf House' Serves Sunday Brunch

Ron Giannotti

RON GIANNOTTI, who operates the new and very successful Surf House, invites you to stop by and enjoy Sunday Brunch featured from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. There is parking space galore at this popular seven-days-a-week restaurant . . . Alex Stern, the famed etcher and illustrator (his work is on display at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel), is temporarily "retired," due to a broken hand. The other afternoon found he and Erwin Best, general manager of the hotel, enjoying a sunning on the sun deck, where the temperature had to be in the 80's. This solves the mystery of how Mr. Best keeps his year 'round tan. I've been invited to do likewise, under one condition—that I don't bring a lunch . . . You'll thank me for this suggestion: Order some of "Mom" Bertolucci's handmade raviolis, cannelloni, or tortolinii on your next dinner visit to South San Francisco Bertolucci's restaurant . . . You're sure to get appetite satisfaction at Keith's Chicken and Steak House. Keith originally started out serving chicken, but soon added everything from a broiled hamburger to Italian food, plus steaks and chicken. Take out or home delivery is also a Keith's specialty.

VICKY ALVAREZ
Sinaloa—June 1

ENRICO ROMANO, Pacifica restaurateur, has added another hobby to his long list. Namely, a racing car, or "hot rod," in colors of bright red and white. The "king" is so "far out" on this new bit that he even wears goggles while traveling about town in his white Cadillac. Oh, well, if all else fails and no trophies are forthcoming, the "king" can always use the racing car to deliver pizzas up and down the coast . . . The Brothers Delicatessen and Restaurant has introduced a new mode of dining and many new "goodies" to our fair city. Lou and Sam Horam are the food experts. Their program includes table and counter service, plus a complete line of carry out or take home foods. Also many types of bread and rolls. Delivery after 3 p.m. . . . The Garden Club (formerly the Il Manzo) resumed serving $1.95 steak dinners, as of yesterday. Also a prime favorite here is the glass of beer and steak sandwich for just one buck. Paul Lunardi heads the operation . . .

Enrico Romano

NEW RESTAURANT OPENING—Brothers restaurant made its Peninsula debut, last week, and on hand for the ribbon cutting were Lou Romson, co-owner; Charles Gensler, president of Greater Downtown San Mateo, Inc.; Mayor Hugh Wayne of San Mateo, and Sam Horam, co-owner of the restaurant.

BOB WYLIE, general manager of the Hillsdale Inn, will present Mike Maffay and his musical group for Friday and Saturday night dancing; Roger Clark and his Lute entertaining in the King Henry Room. Food also rates top billing . . . With so many "All you can eat" spots springing up, don't overlook Victor's Rotisserie located in the Farmers Market, Hillsdale Plaza. Here, you will find self service buffet or smorgasbord and a choice of 15 delicious items from which to make table selections. Victor Faure-Brac prepares the eye-catching and appetizing treats . . . Gang at the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency tossed a luncheon at Phil Lehr's downtown Steakery for retiring Grover Schmidt, who left for an extended trip to Europe next day . . . Las Vegas Haci-

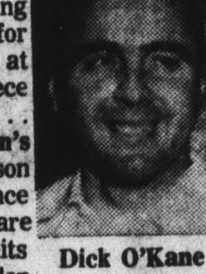
Bob Wylie

BRIGHT LIGHTS has written many a story about a "character" named Dick O'Kane, who operated a "pizza mint" called Hambone's. His hobby was paying off his charges with $2 bills. Dick took his "dough" and moved to Monterey—and that's the last I heard of him, until recently. Understand Dick is running for a political office in that area and his campaign motto is "Everything for Everybody and a Little Something for Me." If Dick doesn't win the election, at least his slogan will be a conversation piece in that territory for some time to come . . . Compliments galore on the Charm Garden's Key Sauce. Some folks even use it to season their hamburgers. The Merchant Prince Brand Salad Dressing and Soy Sauce are other Z. L. Loo products that are taste hits —and also available at the Charm Garden restaurant, as well as many local markets . . .



Dick O'Kane

Extra Mile Worth While

Love the slogan at Pancho's Mexican Cafe located at Five Points in Redwood City—"It's worth your while to drive that extra mile." I drove that extra mile, last Sunday, and enjoyed a wonderful assortment of Mexican dishes. Al Collins, the radio wit and converted Mexican, is a twice-a-week taco and enchilada fan here.

Holiday Weekend In Mountain View

Donna Theodore, a charming and talented young lady, is proving a big entertainment hit at the Mountain View Caravan Inn. Donna's talents include many original dance routines and vocal renditions. The Nob Hill Trio shares equal billing and play for dancing.

The "Inn" is offering a "Holiday Weekend" that provides a vacation right here at home.

Barney O'Malia, Barney's Casino boss, constantly sings the praises of Lake Tahoe (South Shore): "It has the greatest entertainment, the best restaurants, and some of the most spectacular scenery. Put them all together and you have the greatest place in the world to shoot craps!"

Frank and Dorothy Dambrogio celebrated the grand opening of their Harbor, located at 150 Harbor Road in Belmont. Food, frolic and fun was had by all. Max, Paul, Al, Joe and Silkey were on hand to greet and meet.

Oakland Holiday Inn continues to attract the crowds with its Second Edition of "Holiday In Paris." Belle Oliver and Vivian Grant add to the evening's entertainment at the pianobar in the lounge.

"More Life Insurance"

While enjoying a seafood dinner at Vince's Restaurant, last eve, I couldn't help but overhear a chat between two gents at the counter. It was all I could do to keep from laughing out loud.

Seems one gent took out some life insurance just before a plane flight—one policy for his wife, another for his girl friend. In his haste, he mailed his wife's policy to the girl friend, the girl friend's to the wife. Looks like the next move will ground him, no matter which way he "flies."

Lucille Ball was the recient of a remarkable welcome at Finocchio's on her latest visit to San Francisco. A capacity audience gave TV's famous Lucy a standing ovation so prolonged it delayed the start of the show several minutes. Then after the revue presented by the clever female impersonators, police had to be called to protect Miss Ball from being mobed by over-eager autograph seekers.

Verna Wales, Mary Ann Hay, and Bill Kane's 3 Beats seem to have steady jobs at Nick's in Pacifica. Customers come back year in and year out to enjoy their versatile entertainment.

Vicky Alvarez, Latin, exotic dancer who has performed world wide, is inked to a Sinaloa engagement — opening Monday, June 1. Advance publicity received by club owner Luz Garcia lists many raves for this Latin lass.

Robert Schumann hosted a surprise birthday dinner-party at Lew Lehr's in the Marina for his sister Emily — on her 75th birthday!

BETTER BUSINESS

Repairmen Offer Do's and Don't's

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor of the BBB Barometer

Most equipment manufacturers, knowing that good service is necessary for satisfied consumers, have greatly improved their appliance service. They pay good wages, thus attracting personable and intelligent men. Some companies have training programs in manners, as well as in the knowledge of the machines they are to repair.

In an interview with a group of repairmen, the following complaints and suggestions were made:

1. Clean out area where the work is to be done. This applies especially to under sink and basin.

2. Keep children away. Do not make serviceman a baby-sitter.

3. Put pets away when your serviceman arrives.

4. When making an appointment for job, list what is to be done so that serviceman can estimate his time for other jobs.

5. Ask what the service rate is when phoning in for serviceman. Do not wait until the job is done to complain.

6. Expect to pay the bill at time of job, unless your credit is established at the office when the appointment is made.

7. Remove fragile items from area where work is to be done before serviceman arrives, thus helping to lower cost of call.

8. Have equipment repaired at the first sign of trouble. Do not wait and then expect miracles from the repairman.

9. Do not expect companies to guarantee performance from materials you purchased yourself.

10. On extensive jobs, $50 or more, get an estimate before starting the job for approximate cost.

Better Business Bureau advises when your appliances need repair:

1. Contact a reliable firm.

2. Ask for a preliminary estimate in writing. Always ask for an itemized account. Ask to see new parts upon delivery if you have any doubt that new part is not to be installed.

3. Ask for a guarantee in detail and in writing.

Appliance repairmen have the same complaint. The customer does not understand why he should be billed for a service call that turned into a customer instruction call. He found there were no repairs necessary, but he had to instruct the housewife how to properly use her appliance.

Appliance manufacturers strongly emphasize the importance of good care of equipment for the best results and to help eliminate unnecessary service calls.

Very often the serviceman finds in his customer instruction calls, that the housewife had not taken the time to read the instruction book accompanying the appliance, or she had not understood the directions.

Every concern is in business for profit. The average customer resents paying for the travel time of a repairman to come from the shop to his home. The customer is under the impression that the labor charges on his bill represents the repairman's actual wage for time spent in his home on the job; the customer cannot understand why he should be charged for the time representing the repairman's "shop to home" travel, in addition to that actually spent on the job.

There must be a head office force to take the calls and send out the service trucks. The service truck, which is reality a traveling shop, represents a large outlay of money. In addition to buying the truck, there are the maintenance expenses, the cost of the tools, and the stocking of the truck. The company must carry insurance on men and truck.

D.C. Girl Hit by Car

A 13-year-old Daly City girl suffered cuts and bruises on her right knee and left thigh Thursday afternoon when she was struck by an auto at Evergreen Avenue and Mission Street in Daly City.

The girl, Carolyn J. Person, of 226 Alexander Avenue, was treated at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in South San Francisco.

Police identified the driver of the car as Juan M. Gadayan, 55, of 1130 Hanover Street, Daly City. He was cited for failing to give the right of way to a pedestrian.

A Winner Is Called

MAURICE (CAL) CALHOUN, co-owner of the Mission Boat & Cycle Shop at 6565 Mission Street, Daly City, telephones Raymond A. Bagley of 426 Wildwood Drive, South San Francisco, that Bagley has won a fully equipped Honda 50 motorcycle in the shop's months-long luau contest. The cycle was the first prize. Other winners were: Frank O. Salmen of 231 Miriam Street, Daly City, $50, and John Iniguez of 661 Myrtle Avenue, South San Francisco, a Honda riding helmet. (Post-Times Photo)

AUTO PARTS TAKEN

Ronald J. Johnson of 318 Saipan Road, Daly City, reported to Daly City police over the weekend that miscellaneous auto parts had been stolen from his car.

BURGLARY REPOTR

Thomas S. Merrill of 655 Lake Merced Boulevard, Daly City, reported to police last week that a guitar, portable tape recorder and a black jewelry case containing a lady's wrist watch had been stolen from his residence.

TIRES TAKEN

Thieves stole 24 tires valued at $560 from the J and J Mobil Station at 1404 Southgate Avenue, Daly City police reported last week.

LET'S PLAY
Mama why won't you buy me that pretty house with the separate family room? I'd like to play on the nice sheltered patio and couldn't run away because of the fenced yard, and besides, think how restful it is to see the view of the hills. We're just the right sized family for 2 bedrooms, 1½ baths and yet every square foot gives up so much "living room." $28,500
